Garden in Fish House

Jesse Walter, of Beyond Your Garden, is a NYS certified Nursery and Landscaper Professional. He attended the May meeting of the FHCC with an offer to donate plant material and his time to design and install a garden for a member of our community. The FHCC agreed to contribute by donating funds and labor to this project. FHCC chose one of the historical houses of Fish House. Jesse researched plants that were found in gardens around 1795 and came up with a design. On Sunday, August 4th, members of the FHCC assisted Jesse in clearing the land (Bob Clemens lent his yolk rake), preparing the garden bed and then planting the plants. Machinery, plants and time were donated. Milburn Farm gave a 50% discount on the plants purchased there. To help the plants to become established, volunteers have watered the garden twice a day. Mulch was added this week to help the garden retain moisture.

Jesse has also been researching plants that are native to this area. He is very enthusiastic about his new business. Check him out on Facebook!

School Houses of Fish House

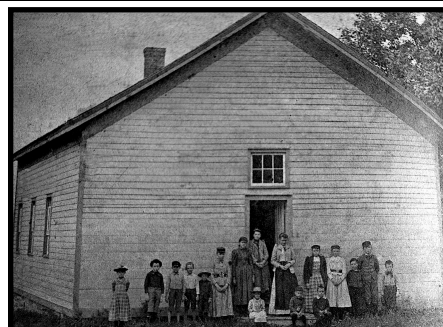

The first school house was built in 1798. It was a one room school house. It was School #2 of Northampton, NY.

In May of 1867, the Slocum family deeded a parcel of land to the town of Northampton for the purpose of building a school house on it. The parcel of land was located near the United Methodist Church, almost across the street from the Community Center. The Slocums mandated that a fence be constructed around the school house and in the event that the building was no longer to be used as a school, then the land on which the school sat would revert back to the Slocum heirs. In 1908 the building stopped being a school house. Eventually Dexter Ryder bought the building and had it moved in 1928 to the end of Ryder Road. It has since been "absorbed" into a larger house so that only its roofline can be seen.

The third school house, School #6 (presently our Community Center) was built across the street from the one room school house on land that had been owned by Willis Hayden. Hayden, at that time, was the School Trustee. The architect for the two room school house was Frederick L. Comstock of Gloversville, NY. He charged $50 for the blueprints. The original plans called for a wood burning stove. New York State, however, mandated that due to the size of the building, it should have a furnace in a basement. That made for corrections in the plans of the building. The construction of the building began in the summer of 1908. It is uncertain when the two room school house was finished and then occupied by students. The state was still making inspections in early 1909.

Two teacher contracts (shown on next page) show that the teachers were hired for the spring term, starting in January of 1909. Perhaps because there were still inspections that were required by the State, the school house did not officially open until then. In January of 1909, Willis Hayden purchased the school bell from C.W. Barden of Syracuse for only $13.50. In March of 1909, New York State informed Mr. Hayden that unless a fence be built that separated the entrances to the girls and boys outhouses then the state would "withhold the public moneys from districts violating the health and decency act." The state also inspected the furnace in the school in the spring of 1909 and found it to be acceptable.

A tax list around that time listed Lucy Sinclair. Her house and lot along with an empty lot was assessed for $650. The taxes for that property totaled $58!
